The Rev. Daniel Sysoev Benevolent Fund

Priests Have Died

The Benevolent Fund was established in 2010 by Priest Daniel Sysoev’s wife, Yulia Sysoev, to aid the needy families and widows of clergy. Unfortunately, there are many financially disadvantaged clergy families in Russia, but the greatest financial need is felt by the widows of priests who have fallen victim to murder or tragedy, and we Christians have a duty to care for them.

In recent times we have seen a rise in sudden deaths among our intercessors before God—those who pray for us more often than others, through whom the Lord forgives our sins, from whom we receive comfort. At present the fund has learned of and established contact with 45 such families, and is constantly searching for clergy families in need so as to provide them with uncompensated aid.

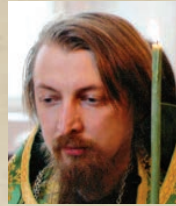

We call upon Orthodox Christians to contribute their two mites to support the work of the Fund. Contact information and donation options are located on our website, matuskideti.ru, in the “Charity” section. Donors, as the Word of God says, lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven and robe your hearts in works of charity; and you who are in need, offer up prayers for your benefactors’ salvation!

On August 11th 2010 at the age of 29 the servant of God Father Andrey Kashkov, rector of St. Sergius of Radonezh Orthodox Church in the village of Stodolishche, departed this life. He had been the rector of that church for over 8 years, since 2002. Father Andrey was greatly respected by his parishioners for his kindness and true witness to our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. He is survived by Matushka Natasha and their four little children.

On June 29th 2007 Father Konstantin Vozzhennikov (assistant priest at Sts. Faith, Hope, Love, and Sophia Orthodox Church, Viatka diocese) died of cancer. He is survived by his matushka and their two daughters, Maria and Anastasia. Anastasia is very sick with cerebral palsy. The source of their very small income is the state child welfare program.

On April 27th 2013 Father Alexey Tretiakov (rector of Sts. Peter and Paul Russian Orthodox Church in Uzhur, Krasnoyarsk Region diocese) departed to the Lord. He had been diagnosed with brain cancer. He is survived by
